

A non-profit foundation engaging with industry to pioneer collaborative R&D and innovative technical approaches that solve problems for a safer world.

For more than sixty years, MITRE has worked across government to tackle challenges to the safety, stability, and well-being of our nation.

Today, there are big challenges facing our nation and our world that go beyond what government alone can address. Without a profit motive, MITRE stands ready to help with the research, technical experts, and the objectivity to work on these big challenges. By engaging with industry organizations and experts, we are confident that we can accelerate solutions to problems of national and global importance with our foundation, MITRE Engenuity™.

Building on the foundation of MITRE

MITRE Engenuity is dedicated to MITRE's values and mission of solving problems for a safer world, pioneering new approaches across the private sector to tackle deeply complex public interest problems like cybersecurity, disinformation, electric grid resilience, healthcare effectiveness, financial systems security, next generation communications, and other critical infrastructure challenges.

Tackling society's complex technical problems

MITRE Engenuity supports complex ecosystems that require working with industry, such as securing the electric grid, protecting our banking systems from cybersecurity attacks, leveraging electronic health record data to improve healthcare effectiveness, and strengthening election security. MITRE Engenuity works to:

- Drive collaborative R&D to strengthen critical infrastructure and develop impactful data insights;
- Make targeted investments in transformative early stage R&D and product development that fill gaps in critical solutions for the public good; and
- Turn MITRE intellectual property and capabilities into sustainable solutions that serve the public good.

Putting mission first

Together with our industry partners' resources and best practices, MITRE Engenuity supports programs solely focused on the public good, aligned to MITRE's mission and values.

MITRE Engenuity does not accept government funds and does not compete for government contracts. Instead, MITRE Engenuity addresses public interest problems in collaboration with the private sector, using private sector resources.

With deep technical expertise and decades of success in objective research and systems-level thinking, we're committed to move faster, become more innovative, and deliver technical approaches with real-world impact.
